

The Department of Earth Sciences (DES) will celebrate its annual Department Day, CONVERGENCE 2025, on February 5, 2025. This event aims to foster engaging interaction among students, research scholars and scientists through talks, poster presentations and a cultural program.

The scientific oral session will feature invited talks from experts in the field, together with presentations from the research scholars of the Department. The poster presentations will showcase original research work from graduate students and research scholars from the DES as well as from institutions across the region.

Department of Earth Sciences, IISER Kolkata

The Indian Institute of Science Education and Research Kolkata (IISER Kolkata) is the first among seven IISERs, to have established a Department of Earth Sciences. The department started its journey in 2007, a year after IISER Kolkata was established. It has a vibrant academic environment fostering undergraduate (BS-MS) teaching with exposure to research. Faculty members of the department are engaged in cutting-edge, often interdisciplinary research in a wide variety of fields including Solid Earth studies, Earth Surface Processes and Environment and Climate studies, mentoring numerous Ph.D. and post-doctoral fellows. Alumni of the department are successful researchers and faculty members in top-ranked Institutes in India and abroad as well as in various industries.
